EVERY BRILLIANT THING

JANUARY 3-19, 2020
Sunflower Financial Theatre

By Duncan Macmillan with Jonny Donahoe

Counting the everyday joys

When you're seven years old and your mom is in the hospital because "she's done something stupid," you start to make a list of everything that's brilliant about the world. Everything that's worth living for. This narrated play with audience interaction finds a perfect balance between conveying the struggles of life, and celebrating all that is sweet in it.

When the low-born Monty Navarro finds out that he's eighth in line for an earldom in the lofty D'Ysquith family, he figures his chances of outliving his predecessors aren't good, so he goes in a more nefarious direction. Can he knock off his unsuspecting relatives without being caught and become the ninth Earl of Highhurst? And what of love? Because murder isn't the only thing on Monty's mind...

Normalizing Depression:

A Workshop Highlighting Depression in Women, Children, and the Workplace

Depression is an epidemic, and can be especially difficult following the holidays. Coping with depression, or interacting with those struggling with depression can be overwhelming. Through a grant from the Salina Regional Health Center, and in conjunction with the production of EVERY BRILLIANT THING, SCT will offer four FREE workshops to help people learn new coping skills, as well as how to recognize depression.

The workshops, led by Kristina Freeland, LCPC, Angie Sartain, LCMFT, Emma Ward, LCMFT, and Dr. Christopher Graber, MD, will focus on depression in women, children, and the workplace. The free workshops will be January 7, 8, 14, and 15 at the theatre, 303 E. Iron Ave, and will begin at 7:00 PM, doors opening at 6:30 PM. Each person attending will be given a voucher for two tickets to see EVERY BRILLIANT THING. The box office will be open following the workshops, for those who wish to make reservations right away.
